

A Father's Notes

One thing that a mother does well, but fathers fall short is giving their children notes. This is a very easy way to show your children you love them. Write a note for your child's lunch box or back pack. It only takes a few minutes of your time. Prepare it the night before and put it in their lunch box. It can be very simple, such as: "Johnny, I hope you are having a great day at school. Can't wait to see you tonight. Love, Dad."

Something that simple can mean the world to a child. Knowing that you took time to say something nice to your child is a precious memory they will keep forever. Moms, you can help by prompting Dad to do this. A little prompt and 30 seconds of time can change a child's attitude for a day, or even a lifetime. Do it. Do it today!

For you know that we dealt with each of you as a father deals with his own children, encouraging, comforting and urging you to live lives worthy of God, who calls you into his kingdom and glory. .
