

The Same Moral Rules

The moral rules we give our children should be the same rules for the parents. When teaching our children about the character trait of truthfulness, we should not ask them to say you are not home when they answer the phone.

There is a sign in a school that reads, “What you do speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you say”.

Deuteronomy 6:6-9

⁶And you must commit yourselves wholeheartedly to these commands I am giving you today. (*yourself first) ⁷Repeat them again and again to your children. Talk about them when you are at home and when you are away on a journey, when you are lying down and when you are getting up again. ⁸Tie them to your hands as a reminder, and wear them on your forehead. ⁹Write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.
